BOXEDGE and MARYANA BODNAR announce their new single: "Under The Moon"

Italian composer and producer BOXEDGE and Ukrainian soprano Maryana Bodnar today officially announce the immediate release of their new single "Under The Moon"

*"Dream again
All the tears you cried
Mean Nothing"*

The song (composed and produced by BOXEDGE) is enriched by the voice of Maryana Bodnar, and is available on all major digital stores.

The moon has always been a source of inspiration for poets and artists. It has been the subject of poetry and music. In "Under the Moon", once again, the moon is a silent protagonist, observing from afar a human drama that takes place in someone's mind and heart. Under the moon, in the silence, in the darkness and in solitude pain dissolves for a while, and turns into unreal quietness, into dream and into a caressing illusion.

The song is an original crossover between electronic music - with a particular accent on a psy trance setting - and the sweetness of beautiful lyrical voice.

After the publication of the first single "Invocation", the two artists continue their artistic journey in the Boxedge and Maryana Bodnar Project - Future Electronica.
